

Chelmsford Land Conservation Trust and the Chelmsford Public Library

~ Present ~

"Birds In Our Backyard"

Alison Powers, Director – Chelmsford Land Conservation Trust

Monday, April 14, 2008 at 7:00p.m.
Chelmsford Public Library

Birds abound in Chelmsford! Learn how to recognize birds by sight and sound, their feeding and nesting habits, and learn ways you can attract these beautiful creatures to your own backyard!

Learn about the birds that call Chelmsford home. We will talk about birds that frequent backyards in Chelmsford as well as birds that reside in properties owned and maintained by the CLCT.

The Chelmsford Land Conservation Trust (CLCT) is a non-profit organization whose primary mission is to preserve open space. We are also an advocate for land conservation "in our back yard," and will work to encourage interest in Chelmsford's natural history and heritage.

For more information visit www.chelmsfordlibrary.org

and/or

www.clct.org

###

