

AUTHOR BIO FOR

"Let Me Be a Light": The Faith Journey of Father Ron Lawson

Richard L. Rotelli, a retired Mechanical Engineer, enjoys the challenges involved in writing true life biographies. During his professional career with three military defense contractors as well as three commercial sector businesses, his skill as a writer was sharpened. It was only natural that in his retirement, he would take on the rewarding work of capturing the remarkable life story of Father Ron Lawson, Senior Priest in Residence at St. Mary Parish in Chelmsford. Bringing that amazing priest's story to the pages of a book was truly a cooperative effort, with Father Ron providing an enormous quantity of raw material based upon his recollection of an incredible amount of detail.

A previous work, A Creative Odyssey: The Story of Floyd and Richie, described the courageous life of Floyd Walser, a severely disabled ex-cowboy turned talented artist and the great life-altering inventions of Richie.

Both books are described at www.RLRotellibooks.com

