

CHELMSFORD STAMP CLUB

Mon. Oct. 6, 2008
@ 7:00 p.m. at the
Chelmsford Library

Join us for a slide show from the American Philatelic Society titled "Fancy U.S. Cancellations."
When U.S. Postage stamps appeared in 1847, the government allowed postmasters to devise cancellers for their particular offices, resulting in a wide variety of fancy cancellations. The examples depicted in this program include a host of geometric and other unusual designs, patriotic images, numeral and letter combinations, message markings, such as "Paid," "Packet boat" and more.
